

Leveled Literacy Intervention (LLI)

The LLI program is a short-term, intensive, small-group intervention designed for children in grades kindergarten through second grade who are having difficulty learning early reading and writing skills. The goal of the program is to accelerate these children's progress in order to bring their skills up to grade level, so that their early literacy difficulties do not become long-term deficits. The program is appropriate for struggling regular education students and students with special needs, and there are minor modifications for English language learners.
